

STATEMENT OF HUMAN AND ANIMAL RIGHTS

All articles in The Medical and Ecological Problems are required to have institutional review board approval in accord with ethical standards set forth in the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals: Writing and Editing for Biomedical Publication at http://www.icmje.org/ethical_6protection.html. When reporting experiments on animals, authors should indicate whether the institutional and national guide for the care and use of laboratory animals was respected.

When reporting experiments on human subjects, authors should indicate whether the procedures were performed in accordance with the ethical standards of the responsible committee on human experimentation (institutional and national) and with the Helsinki Declaration of 1975, as revised in 2005. If doubt exists whether the research was conducted in accordance with the Helsinki Declaration, the authors must explain the reasons for their approach, and demonstrate that the institutional review body explicitly approved the doubtful aspects of the study.

This should apply to all original papers, including original research, brief reports, case reports and also for comments on clinical trials.
